Coaching on Call now offering Coaching Supervision

Coaching on Call has launched a new professional coaching supervision resource, offering flexible access to both corporate and independent coaches

On-demand coaching organisation Coaching on Call now offers Coaching Supervision on Call. Fulfilling all the criteria of current coaching supervision guidelines, such as those issued by the EMCC, this new service is designed to offer affordable, flexible access for professional coaches – both corporate and independent.

The package is available to individuals and groups of corporate coaches, offering structured regular telephone-based supervision alongside ad hoc sessions available at short notice or 'on demand'. The aim is to guarantee the professional structure of regular supervision as required by best practice, while also offering the flexibility of supervision being available on demand to support the immediate needs of the coach.

The service is delivered by a core group of Coaching on Call coaches who are also trained and experienced in coaching supervision.

“Bringing their expertise together with our existing technology, we are able to offer a coaching supervision package that combines quality, rigour and best practice together with flexibility and great value for our coach clients”, explains Coaching on Call director Ruth Paris. “We want to enable coaches to fulfil their ongoing professional development as well as making it easy for them to respond effectively to the demands and dynamics of their day-to-day work.”

Fellow director Kaaren Brook continues, “our unique web-based system means that coaches can have independently validated regular supervision sessions as well as flexible access to a professional resource where quality is guaranteed. Our purpose is to provide a totally safe space to support coaches and the work they are doing with their clients - in a way that is developmental and non-judgemental. This includes challenging coaches' thinking where it impacts on client work as well as supporting their CPD and learning.”

As coaching is not yet a regulated industry, regular coaching supervision with a professional and structured framework helps to ensure quality and is increasingly required in the corporate coaching environment.
